

Trade Blasts In Adjoining Halls

Nixon, Adlai Debate Issues

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Vice President Nixon and Adlai Stevenson debated Formosa and other issues Thursday night—not face to face, but back to back.

The old foes and potential future rivals for president spoke in adjoining halls of the massive Oakland Civic Auditorium. A thick fire wall separated Republicans from Democrats.

Nixon told the Republicans the Eisenhower administration opposes turning the islands of Quemoy and Matsu over to the Chinese Communists. He said to do so would be a reward for aggression.

The vice president spoke of the administration's policy as being flexible toward negotiation if the Chinese Communists agree to a cease-fire. But he said it is firm against yielding to the use of force.

Stevenson told the Democrats that the United States should make clear it will fight to defend Formosa, but that the tiny islands off the coast of China are another matter.

He said Quemoy and Matsu historically always have belonged to China. He also said the present fight between Nationalists and Communists is a continuation of the Chinese civil war in which he believes the United States should not intervene.

Nixon, winding up a campaign swing of his home state, spoke before 850 persons who paid $100 a plate for dinner, and 1,000 more who chipped in $5 each just to listen. He was flanked by Sen. William F. Knowland and Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, Republican nominees for each other's present jobs.

Nixon attracted 1,400 to a fund-raising rally scaled at $1, $3 and $5.

Nixon made several passing references to "orators in the other room," but did not mention Stevenson by name. Knight was more pointed. He described the "gentleman next door" as "some with holes in their shoes, some with holes in their heads." A Stevenson hole-in-the-shoe picture became a trademark of the two-time Democratic presidential candidate.

Stevenson didn't hesitate off by saying he didn't know which Nixon was behind the wall—"the new or the old." He criticized President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles for "suddenly changing their positions" on Formosa, but observed, "Our agile vice president won't have much trouble catching up."

Nixon, on his side, denied there was either any change of policy or weakening of the administration position. This statement referred to Dulles' proposal for reducing the size of Nationalist forces on Quemoy and Matsu in the event of a dependable cease-fire.

Full Employment Act, Tax Repeal Asked by AFL-CIO

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The AFL-CIO today announced a comprehensive legislative program that features recommendations for an Ohio Full Employment Act and repeal of the state sales tax.

In a 13-page booklet entitled "Common Cause" the AFL-CIO sets forth its recommendations for legislation on 13 specific topics ranging from schools to aid to the aged.

But the most unique recommendation was for a full employment act implemented with practical job-creating tools.

"These economic tools should include road building, school expansion, hospital construction, bridge and public building programs, slum clearance, development of parks and recreation areas and a host of other desperately needed public facilities," the booklet stated.

The labor legislative program also included these other recommendations.

Taxation—Repeal of the state sales tax and other state and municipal excise taxes and substitution of a state income tax patterned after the federal system.

Unemployment compensation—Immediate authorization for supplemental unemployment benefits; raise unemployment benefits to equal 75 per cent of average weekly wages; increase benefits from the present 26 weeks to 39 weeks.

Schools—Increase appropriations for more new school construction; increase teacher salaries and provide "special assistance" to colleges and universities.

Civil rights—Create a state fair employment practices commission to guard against discrimination on the basis of race, creed, color or age in employment.

Workers' compensation—Raise basic benefits to 80 per cent of weekly wages; payment of dependency allowances; increase benefit schedules for loss of arms, hands etc. by 20 per cent; raise death benefits to dependent families to $1,000.

Aid to the aged—Financial aid to the aged should either be drastically increased from the present $65 a month maximum or eliminated entirely and each recipient of aid be judged on the basis of specific need.

Labor-management relations—Create a state department of labor with general jurisdiction over all general labor matters; enact a state labor-management act to ensure equitable handling of labor-management disputes.

Public housing—Revise the $2,400 maximum income limit for admission to public housing projects to allow additional moderate income families to occupy dwellings under jurisdiction of metropolitan housing authorities.

Farmers—Eliminate farm tenancy; improve rural fire protection; stimulate farm cooperatives; extend health facilities and expand electrification to more rural areas.

Minimum wage—Enact a $1.25 hourly minimum state wage law.

Election laws—The general assembly should make it mandatory for boards of elections to provide precinct registration facilities; voting hours should be expanded.

Public employees—Enact legislation to provide grievance procedure, mediation, and voluntary arbitration for those under civil service; permissive legislation to allow public employees to have social security.

DAM PRODUCES — Electricity is streaming into the Pacific Northwest from Brownlee Dam, Idaho Power Company's new 360,000-kilowatt hydro project in the controversial Hells Canyon reach of the Snake River. Above is photo-diagram of the huge multipurpose project. It shows the world's second-highest rockfill embankment, 400 feet high and containing six million cubic yards of earth. Brownlee is the first of three dams Idaho Power will build in Hells Canyon to produce an ultimate 1,200,000 kilowatts. The other projects are Oxbow Dam, under construction, and Hells Canyon Dam.

Spry And Witty, Sen. Green Reaches 91st Birthday

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Spry and witty, Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-R.I.), oldest man ever to serve in Congress, today entered his 92nd year whimsically considering wearing his toga to the centenarian mark.

Green's 91st birthday was a busily minimum state wage law.

Election laws—The general assembly should make it mandatory for boards of elections to provide precinct registration facilities; voting hours should be expanded.

Courts Eat Into Backlog of Cases

LISBON — The two county Common Pleas Courts "gained ground" in September, Clerk of Courts John W. Peterson reports.

The courts disposed of a total of 119 cases; 62, domestic relation cases, 45, civil; and 12, criminal.

Eighty-four new cases were filed in September: 25, domestic; 49, civil, and 10, criminal.

Cases still pending total 979: 207, Domestic relations; 676, civil; and 96, criminal.

Monthly court reports are sent to the administrative office of the State Supreme Court at Columbus by the clerk of courts office.

TO GET CARILLON

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP) — Wilmington College, a Quaker school, is going to get a 36-bell carillon from the Roman Catholic exhibit by the Vatican at the Brussels World Fair. The college announced Thursday that Mrs. Besie Goodman, former Wilmington resident, is giving the bells to the school. A 50-foot tower will be built to house them.

Truman Opens Tour of Ohio Sets Talks Today In Akron, Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Harry S. Truman started a two-day tour of Ohio today on behalf of his favorite people—Democratic candidates.

The former President speaks today at the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers convention and in Akron tonight. He closes his swing through the state with a speech at a fund-raising dinner in Columbus Saturday night.

Asked on his arrival at Cleveland Hopkins Airport Thursday night what he thought about laws to regulate labor contracts, Truman replied:

"I'll talk about it when I make my speech."

Thursday, George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, termed a campaign for the controversial legislation "deceitful propaganda, a campaign of fraud."

Meany said the National Assn. of Manufacturers and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce are supporting such laws. He characterized the NAM as consistently opposed to "progressive legislation that would benefit the workers."

Mentioning no names, he criticized "a candidate for governor" in Ohio who is supporting the proposal to regulate union contracts.

Gov. C. William O'Neill has announced his support of an amendment to the Ohio constitution which states, "No employer or labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership or non-membership in, or payment or non-payment of money to, a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment in this state."

His Democratic opponent, Michael V. DiSalle, has stated opposition to the proposal.

Sen. Taft's Widow Dies at Age of 68

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mrs. Martha Bowers Taft, widow of Sen. Robert A. Taft, died Thursday at her home in suburban Indian Hill. She was 68.

Her son, state Rep. Robert Taft Jr., said death was apparently heart failure. Mrs. Taft, who always shared her husbands campaign battles, had been confined to a wheelchair since suffering a stroke in 1950. Her death, however, was unexpected.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow with burial beside her husband in an Indian Hill cemetery.

Martha Taft was a constant source of support. She made speeches and the speeches made friends.

In 1938, when Taft tried for the U.S. Senate for the first time, she started old-line politicians by stumping Ohio for him, making speeches and arrangements in 85 of the 88 counties. One Cleveland newspaper headlined his victory "Bob and Martha Win."

She worked just as hard again in 1944 and in his unsuccessful tries for his presidential nomination. Illness curtailed her activities but in his last attempt—in 1952—she conducted a one-woman letter writing campaign for him.

The team of Bob and Martha didn't quite reach the White House, but that's where they met. She was the daughter of the U.S. Solicitor general; he was the son of President William Howard Taft. They were married in 1914.

Besides Robert Jr., Mrs. Taft is survived by three other sons, William Howard, former ambassador to Ireland and now a State Department adviser; Lloyd, former executive vice president of the Cincinnati Times-Star—a family enterprise—before it was sold this summer, and Horace, an assistant professor of physics at Yale. There are 14 grandchildren.

It Should Be A Crusade

Since his all-out support for the right to work freedom of choice amendment, Gov. O'Neill has taken off the gloves and is pulling no punches in his campaign for re-election.

In speeches at Canton the other day he made forceful statements — which he indicates he will repeat through the campaign against corruption in labor unions as it is typified by James Hoffa and his ilk.

Gov. O'Neill's attack certainly is not a blanket indictment against unions. It is a valid criticism against the exploitation of union members who are helpless to extricate themselves from the clutches of the racketeers in their organizations who are obviously more interested in feathering their own nests than improving the lot of their members.

Labor racketeering, Gov. O'Neill said, "is the one blot, the one cloud, the one cancer in Ohio. We must erase this blot". He is confident that "the thousands of honest, hard-working labor men, just like other decent men who resent this abuse, will rise up and throw out racketeering in their own unions if given the chance with freedom from fear of retribution."

Gov. O'Neill has forcefully seized the initiative in a cause through which he can assert leadership and inspire confidence among the people of Ohio and generate enthusiasm in the whole statewide campaign.

He is campaigning in the best tradition of the late Robert A. Taft. Sen. Taft was an artful crusader for the causes in which he believed, and Ohioans loved him for it and voted for him in elections where other Republicans did not always fare as well as he.

Bill O'Neill's continuation of the crusade he launched in Canton could stimulate thousands of citizens throughout the state to rally behind him and his cause—a cause which is good in any event even in the less spectacular fields of good government, such as highway building, balanced budgets and sound administration.

France Saddles a Fresh Horse

In last Sunday's showdown at the polls, opposition to a new French Constitution vanished. The proposal won in a landslide.

The question is whether French voters voted overwhelmingly in favor of a man on horseback, or whether they voted for the horse.

The horse is the new charter for Fifth Republic, to replace the Fourth Republic, which suffered from bowed tendons.

The man on the horse might be Charles de Gaulle, in whom many Frenchmen have thought they detected Napoleonism.

The outcome of the vote probably was a reflection of approval of both the new charter and the strong man who put it up to popular decision.

The French are famed for logic, though their logic often is by hindsight, rather than foresight. They knew they had nowhere to go under their old constitution that gave bickering "politicalists" all the power, at the expense of administrators trying to run the government without concerted backing.

They knew their cherished liberty was being scuttled by pipsqueak bickerers and opportunists thriving under a system that paralyzed executive leadership.

When De Gaulle rose up last May as France's best hope to stop what he described as "the degradation of the state," the French could see clearly by hindsight that the Fourth Republic, made to order for Communist obstructionists and cheap-jack politicos, had been a mistake.

The new constitution they have approved gives the balance of authority to a premier and underwrites it by trimming legislative power to throw him out of office. It eases the problem of how to hang on to overseas territories by giving them the option of breaking away, another belated flash of French logic.

France now has the horse for a man on horseback if its famed Gen. Charles de Gaulle wants to spring into the saddle. But as he, himself, pointed out when the possibility was mentioned last summer, he's a little old for that sort of thing, at 67.

result of local hospital authorities efforts to establish rigid entrance requirements and high standards of related classroom and occupational work.

There were some people who accepted the conversion of the former nurses training school into a school for practical nursing with misgivings but in less than a year the school has enrolled two classes of girls and has received the complete sanction of the state.

The "something new" at City Hospital has succeeded. It will be climaxed Nov. 7 by the graduation of the first class of 11 practical nurses.

Take Pen in Hand

International Letter Writing Week starts Sunday and perhaps it doesn't mean a thing to you personally—or does it?

Did you ever stop to realize how much cheer you can put into a letter written to a friend you're unable to visit, or to relatives you haven't seen for many years or to that aging aunt and uncle who are in the twilight years of their lives.

Ever talk to a bedridden patient who received a sudden shower of cards and letters from his friends? If you have, then you realize what tonic letter can impart.

We've been as negligent as you but we're going to make a practical application of International Letter Writing Week come Sunday. You, too?

Nothing in this world is impossible—except the weather some spots had this summer.

Practical Nursing

The Hannah E. Mullins School of Practical Nursing, which was begun last November at Salem City Hospital, has received full accreditation by the Ohio State Board of Nursing Education and Nurse Registration. It had been operating on a provisional approval.

Full accreditation undoubtedly came as the

Once Over

Summer closed with an alltime record for cookouts. A "cookout" is a stubborn fire, with much excess paraphernalia, entirely surrounded by a people with misgivings about the culinary result.

It is an old Indian custom revived to prove the white man can do it with more trouble and expense. Thousands of husbands conduct it long after the novelty has worn off, wearing "The show must go on" expressions.

We are not putting the knock on the barbecue. It provides exercise, creates good will, helps the hardware store and promotes the sale of charcoal, spot removers, bicarb and paper napkins. But there isn't much accomplished that can't be done more easily and with less danger from fire, second degree burns and unexpected blisters.

ONCE YOU NEEDED only a few rocks. Now the cookbook has been developed into a "project" involving architects, engineers, style changes, seasonal models, social prestige and extra room for storage of equipment. There are family barbecues today which are really Broadway "production numbers."

The mere cooking of a steak takes on the pretensions of the Theater Guild direction. The missus asks sweetly, "Would you like to cook out tonight?" and a husband audibly replies, "Certainly, my dear," while saying, "You and your big bonfires" under his breath.

He knows it is an ordeal by smoke, smog, wet matches, damp kindling wood and over-sized charcoal lumps.

mit there is nothing so succulent as a steak with a burnt wood taste or a chicken that comes to the table with the appearance of having come from a three-alarm fire. We have been to cookouts where it would have been better to have served the charcoal and thrown away the meat.

SAFER CHRISTMAS shopping drive in many states will be marked by a big one in New York, focusing it on observance of anti-jaywalking signs. "Look when you walk. Enjoy Christmas" is a slogan, but it is a colorless one. We suggest "Take Crazy Hoping Out of Your Christmas shopping," "Hang Up Your Stocking. Not your Life" and "Don't Beat the Bell to Cry 'Noel'."

Other suggestions for free: "Don't Defy Fate: Santa Can Wait." "Christmas Is For Smilers, Not Three-Minute Milers."

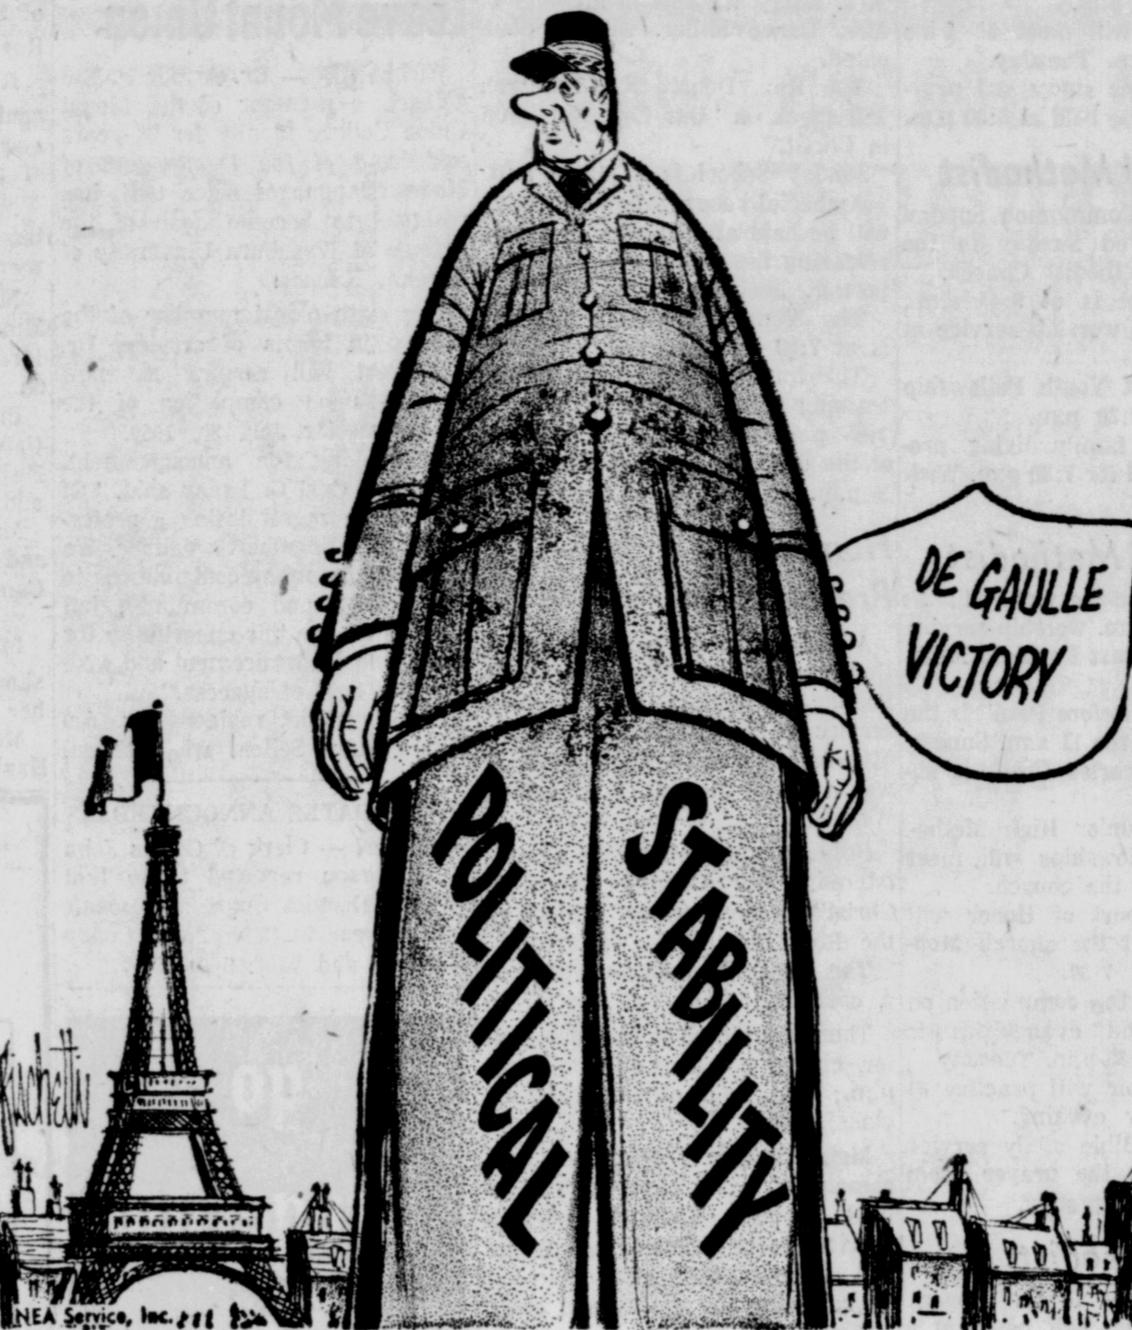

SOME POLITICIANS made the Sherman Adams case a story of "Adams and Heave." Nelson Rockefeller wore a hula hoop at recent rally. (How does Gov. Harriman stand on the hula hoop issue?)

We sometimes think the United States would get farther against Russia and China if it put the issues into the hands of Leo Durocher. . . . Can you remember away back when your only fear of China was that the Chinese restaurant wouldn't make the Chinese nest soup right?

Mayor Wagner's cry, "A horse, a horse, my kingdom for help from horse bets."

Politics In California

By Westbrook Pegler

California has become one of the strongest political areas of the United States in view where of a better acquaintance with the affairs of California would be important to all the rest of the country.

Sacramento is no less important and ominous than Albany and Harrisburg. In common with those political pustules, Sacramento has hitherto enjoyed a degree of secrecy and stealth by reason of remoteness. In the political sense California is incoherent and depraved.

The population has increased from 8,303,000 in 1945 to 15,015,000 (projected by the legislative analyst) in 1950. That is about 80 per cent. In the same period the total number of state employees has risen from 39,500 to 103,700, or 162 per cent, and the total expenditures of the state government from $133,500,000 of "normal" money to $214,900,000 of inflated money.

Now this is the state which by referendum (the attempt of ignorant citizens to act as legislators by the ballot) has provided the absurd pension of $16,000 a year for life for all former governors, including even governors whose salary as such was only $15,000. Chief Justice Warren got $25,000 a year, and under his contract, agreed to a pension of $953 a month, or about two-fifths of the highest salary he ever drew from the state.

Now he is to get a pension of more than three-fifths of his maximum pay, with this example from the highest judicial officer other parasites of the system are not moved to modesty or conscientious denial.

THE EXPENDITURES per capita have gone up 279 per cent and the tax collections per capita only 116 per cent. Tax collections for the current fiscal year are $1,746,457,000 but total revenues will be $1,862,19,000 including royalties from state oil

Kelly Says Imported Steel Used In Bridges

John F. Kelly of Lisbon, Democratic candidate for state representative, Wednesday night criticized Governor O'Neill and the state highway director for permitting contractors to use foreign steel in the construction of state highway bridges.

Speaking at a meeting in Kensington of the Rural Democratic Committee, Kelly said: "This practice is going on right here under our very own eyes. While our own steel-mills are working at only 60 per cent of capacity, our state government is letting this imported steel be used and paid for by our Ohio tax dollars.

"I feel that the Ohio Highway Department should use American steel in highway construction at a time when there is widespread unemployment in our own steel industry."

The candidate repeated his criticism of action on U. S. Route 62, charging O'Neill and the Highway Department are "playing politics with this important road."

He said, "I feel that the state is playing politics with a pressure group in Alliance who want this highway to go north of Alliance and miss Columbiana county completely."

3 PERSONS INDICTED

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—A Lake County Grand Jury Wednesday indicted two men and a woman for alleged fraud in financing auto purchases through City Loan Co.'s Painesville office. Cyril J. Lonsway, 52, fired June 5 as City Loan office manager after 28 years with the company, was charged with embezzling $7,170 and forging notes and chattel mortgages on two cars. He pleaded innocent and is free on $4,000 bond. Indicted on three counts each of issuing false notes and mortgages were Jack Herrman, 42, and his wife, Florence, 38, owners of Jack Herman Motor Sales Inc.

CAN'T BE HYBRIDIZED

CARO, Mich. (AP)—Mrs. Edna Taylor, a grower of African violets, recently received a $45 order from South Africa. It seems African violets can not be hybridized in Africa. The buyer wanted plants other than the natural blue variety.

'Air Flight' Begins 63rd Year Of Activity by Travelers Club

The Travelers Club began its 63rd year of activity Tuesday afternoon at the Smucker House, with this year's subject entitled "Flights — This Side of the Moon." The scene depicted a New York air flight.

Mrs. F. M. Campbell, social chairman for the day, and her committee composed of Mrs. Ramsden Deming, Mrs. Lea A. Cobb, Mrs. George Emery, Mrs. Neil Knowlton, Mrs. A. R. Silver, Mrs. Joel Sharp and Mrs. L. P. Metzger planned the salad tray luncheon. This was served by several members of the committee posing as airline hostesses while "enroute" to the club's imaginary plane.

Mrs. Lloyd M. Gordon, the incoming president, greeted the members. Other new officers are: Mrs. Harry Krohne, first vice president; Mrs. W. Leeds Frye, second vice president; Mrs. Ernest Whitacre, secretary; and Mrs. Troy Cope Jr., treasurer.

In behalf of the year's program committee, consisting of Mrs. Maurice Sandrock and Mrs. Joseph Pidgeon, Mrs. Gordon coordinated her efforts to the program to "Fatten Your Seat Belts."

"Landing in the heart of Broadway," the group was met and entertained by Mares Gray Palmer, professional speaker of the theatrical world. Mrs. Palmer is one of the best known and most highly regarded members of her profession in Pittsburgh, where she is a member of the faculty of the George Hyde School of Radio, TV and Film Studios.

Mrs. Palmer plays with the Pittsburgh playhouse. This summer she performed at the White Barn summer theater at Irwin, Pa., and the Mountain Playhouse at Jemestown, Pa. Her gay, good humor sparked a talk that captivated while informing on how to shop, and what to shop for, towards the best in "Plays, Plots, People — 1958."

A highlight of the season will be the annual guest day luncheon to be held Oct. 28 at the Salem Golf Club. Arrangements are being made by the social committee comprised of Mrs. Thomas Moore, chairman, Mrs. James Carpenter, Mrs. Eugene Young, Mrs. Charles McCorkhill and Mrs. Walter Strain. Guest speakers will be Mrs. Sidney A. Mayer of Worthington, O. A past president of the Travelers Club, Mrs. Mayer will speak on "World Glimpses" which will deal with her recent flight around the world.

The next meeting will be Oct. 14 at 2:15 p.m. in the Smucker House. "Time Machine" is the topic for the meeting.

De Gaulle Offers 5-Point Program On Algerian Issue

CONSTANTINE, Algeria (AP) — Premier de Gaulle announced today a five-year program for resolving the stubborn Algerian nationalist rebellion. The program calls for more and better jobs and housing for the local population, land distribution and better educational opportunities.

He told a cheering European and Moslem throng that last Sunday's constitutional referendum "engages Algeria and France forever."

He thus dashed hopes of Algerian rebels for independence.

"There are only two routes open today — war or fraternity," he said. "Algeria, like everywhere in France, has for its part chosen fraternity."

Sunday's vote was also taken as an expression of confidence in De Gaulle to settle France's outstanding problems, and the Algerian rebellion is the greatest of these.

De Gaulle's program to settle the nearly four-year-old rebellion includes distribution of 625,000 acres of farm land to Moslem farmers, at least 10 per cent of public jobs to go to Moslems, housing for a million persons and greater educational opportunities for Moslems.

De Gaulle told a cheering throng of Frenchmen and North Africans at Orleansville Thursday that the overwhelming approval of a new French Fifth Republic in Sunday's constitutional referendum "proved that Algeria wants to remain with France."

GM was the last of the automotive Big Three to agree with the UAW on a contract.

Ford settled Sept. 17 after a seven-hour strike. Chrysler settled Wednesday without a strike.

GM's settlement followed the pattern of the Ford-Chrysler pact. The three-year contract, replacing the agreement that ran out May 29, provides GM workers will get between 24 and 30 cents hourly increase over the life of the contract.

GM followed Ford and Chrysler in giving the UAW concessions, including continuation of pay boosts if the cost of living continues to increase, an increase in supplemental unemployment pay and a severance pay plan to take care of workers who lose their jobs when plants are closed or moved.

Firemen Check House Blaze In E. Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Fire which began in a waste paper basket, caused approximately $100 damage to the John Kibler home at 137 Thomas St. Thursday at 9:45 p.m.

Damage was done to the walls and ceiling of the kitchen where the fire was confined, Fire Chief Glenn Libert reported.

The Kiblers took their two small children to the home of a neighbor when their house became filled with smoke.

Twenty-five firemen answered the call.

Verdict In Fraudulent Check Case Expected

LISBON — A verdict is expected today in the criminal case of Chester Fred Looman, 20, of Chester, W. Va., formerly of Hookstown, charged with issuing a fraudulent check.

Looman claims he only cashed the check at East Liverpool City Hospital, and that check was written by Clarence Powell of Coraopolis, Pa., who pleaded guilty early this week of issuing a fraudulent check and was sentenced to one to three years in the Ohio State Penitentiary.

The jury sworn in by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard consists of Mary A. Burkhardt, Helen Vess, Robert L. Byrne, Earl Mangus and Mary Green of East Liverpool; Genevieve Hill, Jeanette Hulhman and Leah Broomall of Salem; Thelma Ward of Lisbon; Florence Roberts of East Palestine; Clarence Shontz of Columbiana; and Beatrice Schneider of North Georgetown; Dorothy Boley of East Liverpool is the alternate.

County Women Plan Annual Program Here

Twenty-eight women attended the quarterly meeting of the Columbiana County Home Demonstration Council Thursday at the Hanoverton Presbyterian Church.

Final plans were made for the annual Christmas-at-Home Tea to be held Monday and Tuesday, Nov. 3 and 4, at First Methodist Church in Salem.

Mrs. Violet Peterson, Columbiana County health nurse, reported on the health levy for vote on Nov. 4.

The Presbyterian women served lunch for the group at noon.

Women of ancient Israel used cosmetics. They blackened their eyebrows and eyelashes with manganese and antimony, tinted their lower eyelids green with malachite or turquoise and heightened the color of their lips with red ochre.

"This is evidenced," it said, "by the fact that precisely after March 3—that is the moment the Soviet Union suspended nuclear tests and called upon other countries to follow suit—the governments of the United States and the United Kingdom undertook the biggest ever series of tests of atomic and hydrogen weapons."

"The United States alone has set off about 40 nuclear shots during this period."

"Considering this, the Soviet government cannot allow the security interests of the Soviet state to suffer because of such actions of the United States and the United Kingdom. . . ."

"Tass is authorized to state that, although forced by the actions of the United States and Britain to resume its own nuclear tests, the Soviet Union will in the future continue its struggle for immediate and universal termination of such tests."

Talks are to begin among Soviet, British and American representatives at Geneva Oct. 31 to seek an agreement on suspending tests under adequate safeguards.

Miss Counts hasn't even been sworn in yet. Egan says he's waiting until the bonding company says she's good for $5,000 coverage.

Like the 10 police chiefs Egan has fired and hired during his hectic 4½ years as mayor, Miss Counts will have to know who's in charge.

In his official message to her Egan said: "I want the department renovated, improved and streamlined. But before you make any major decision I want to be consulted."

He told her she was to listen to no phony commissioner-mayors or anybody else.

Miss Counts is supposed to do this for the next 60 days. It's a temporary job, Egan said.

The tall (5 foot 8) Miss Counts says she's not worried about the possibility she may not get her paycheck.

"That'll be all right," she said. "I make twice as much as the chief's salary by free-lance writing." The chief gets $7,092 a year.

To Own a Mortgage or Not

It's Your Pocketbook

BY FAYE HENLE
(NEA Staff Writer)

Every good argument has two sides—or so it seems.

I spent last night trying to convince an old family friend that it was sheer folly for him not to have a mortgage on his house.

He refused to concede that if a savings account yields only 3 1/4 per cent interest there was anything to be gained paying 5 1/2 per cent on a mortgage, especially if you had enough dollars to own that home outright.

I countered with the following points:

Year by year, the dollar is declining in value. Therefore, any debt that you pay off, you'll be paying off with cheaper dollars.

Our federal income tax the interest on a mortgage is deductible. I like to save as much as possible on taxes.

Should I wish to sell my house, the fact that a bank has lent money on it attests to its value.

Having a mortgage gives me borrowing power. It is easy enough, when one's credit is good, to open-end a mortgage—borrow an additional sum under the terms of the original mortgage—raise enough cash to put in the down-stairs bath.

Having a mortgage I find helpful in other ways, too. It forces me to save a specific number of dollars each month to meet payments. It allows me to keep count to cover rainy-day emergencies. Instead of trying all my capital into my home, if I have cash left over, I can put it to work elsewhere—in a small business or the securities market.

THESE ARGUMENTS did not convince my friend.

Next, I called the bank which held the mortgage on our home. I expected them to strengthen—or at least confirm—my arguments. Instead, this is what they told me:

"We urge every family who can do so to own their homes outright. We feel that it is our responsibility to the community to point out that unless capital needed in one's business or elsewhere, there is no place short of speculation where you can get a better return on your money than in owning a debt-free home."

Bankers in Westchester, New York, Long Island and Connecticut echoed their sentiment. They did point out as did my bank, that in areas of the country where mortgage money is tight, as on the West Coast, a mortgage has considerable advantages.

All of the bankers I spoke to agreed with me that a mortgage is helpful as a selling tool. They agreed that it is a means of fighting inflation.

THESE BANKERS disagreed that the income tax savings, for a family of moderate means, is great enough to be a consideration. Of course if you are in the 5 per cent bracket, your mortgage, after taxes, costs you only 2 1/4 per cent.

Finally, they pointed out that the size of the mortgage is an important consideration. If it is a small mortgage and you're not planning to sell up pay is their advice. If yours is an old, low-interest rate mortgage and you might be planning a move in the foreseeable future, hold on to it, put your dollars to work elsewhere.

When it comes to deciding between high rents and home ownership, they urge, swing the ownership with a mortgage.

Safe In Kroger Store Burglary Never Found

No trace has ever been found of the safe stolen from the Kroger supermarket on E. State St. Ext. four weeks ago tomorrow.

Columbiana County Sheriff Russell VanFossen said he is convinced that professionals conducted the robbery and he doubted that the safe ever would be found. The burglars carted away the two-ton safe in a truck and the sheriff believes the thieves took the safe to a building somewhere so that they could open it without observation.

The safe contained $9,900 in currency and checks.

Burdette Allows Seven Hits As Braves Whip Yanks 13-5

First Pitcher In 21 Years To Win 4 In Row From Same Team In Series Competition

NEW YORK (AP) — Two up and two to go. But there is not a Milwaukee Brave who thinks it will be easy.

Two down and four to go. But there is not a New York Yankee who thinks the situation is desperate.

That was the World Series picture today as the Braves and Yankees took a 24-hour breather after Lew Burdette's 13-5 conquest of the American League champions that gave Milwaukee a 2-0 edge in the series.

Despite their crushing defeat, guys not to get too cocky just because they beat us a couple of times. This club of mine has a way of coming back. I know we haven't looked so good but we might get to 'em pretty quick."

Stengel better not bank on the Braves becoming too cocky. Haney spoke for all of his players when he said: "It's far from over. All I'm looking forward to is Saturday's ball game. We'll play them one at a time. All right, so we're two in front. That's two they can't win. But you can't become cheisty. They can come back and pin our ears back. You just got to play 'em one at a time."

Warren Spahn, who probably will pitch the fourth game Sunday, said he figured it will take six games for the Braves to repeat last year's triumph. "These Yankees are tough," he said.

Perhaps the Yankee optimism was the result of their three-run ninth inning outburst against Burdette.

He had a three-hitter and had retired 15 men in a row going into the last inning. Four straight hits, including home runs by Hank Bauer and Mickey Mantle, put him in real trouble for the only time since the first inning in which the Yanks scored first and had the bases loaded before the first double play of the series pulled him out of it.

Burdette dug up a little something extra in the ninth and three straight putouts followed the four hits.

Lew left the field as the first pitcher in 21 years to win four straight from the same team in World Series competition. Lefty Gomez, a Yankee great, did it back in 1936-37 against the New York Giants but he had relief help in one game, while Burdette's have all been complete jobs.

Burdette himself homered in the last half of the first to cap a record seven-run inning by the Braves that all but wrapped it up. He was the fifth pitcher to homer in a World Series and the first since Bucky Walters did it for Cincinnati against Detroit in 1940.

Elton Howard, playing left field for the Yanks, crashed into the fence in a vain effort to pull down Burdette's poke. Examination showed he probably will be sidelined Saturday.

Howard's replacement, Norm Siebern, got one of the seven hits off Burdette, who walked one and struck out five. Bauer had two hits and Mantle two. Mantle has now hit 11 homers in series play, second only to Babe Ruth's 15.

Manager Casey Stengel, who saw his left- and right-handed aces, Whitey Ford and Bob Turley, driven from the mound in two successive days, will rely on Don Larsen, another right-hander, Saturday.

Manager Fred Haney said his starting pitcher will be either Bob Rush or Juan Pizarro.

The guess here is that the third game pitcher will be Rush. The big right-hander gets the call over the young left-hander because of his greater experience. Rush had a 10-6 record during the season. Larsen was 9-6. The Yankees are 7-5 favorites.

The series odds, which now favor Milwaukee at 11-5, failed to dampen Stengel's faith.

"Sure, we're not in what I would call a rosy position," he said, "but this thing is not over by a long shot. Why, only two years ago, we lost the first two to Brooklyn. I seem to remember that we won it at the end, didn't we? There's no law that says we can't do it again. You just never know about those things until they happen. Then you know."

"Somebody ought to tell those

Stengel better not bank on the Braves becoming too cocky. Haney spoke for all of his players when he said: "It's far from over. All I'm looking forward to is Saturday's ball game. We'll play them one at a time. All right, so we're two in front. That's two they can't win. But you can't become cheisty. They can come back and pin our ears back. You just got to play 'em one at a time."

Rush Is Expected To Pitch for Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Manager Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves is a relatively quiet little strategist who seems to be getting a devilish delight in keeping Saturday's pitcher a secret.

But if it's not Bob Rush, the former hard luck right-hander of the Chicago Cubs who was 10-6 for the Braves this season, there will be a few raised eyebrows.

Casey Stengel already has named Don Larsen to try to retrieve Yankee prestige in the third game after New York dropped the first two.

With a twinkle in his eye, Haney has maintained a strict silence on his choice, avoiding all searching queries from newsmen as he departed Thursday night for New York.

"I'll make it official after our workout Friday afternoon," he said.

Haney also will not be trapped in saying anything detrimental about the Yankees. He is a great admirer and friend of Stengel's and this he respects on the field.

As they say in the West Virginia mining country where Burdette comes from, he was whupped

"em for fair Thursday for the fourth consecutive time as Milwaukee won 13-5.

Only Lefty Gomez ever beat the same team four straight in World Series competition. He did it for the Yankees against the Giants in 1936-37.

Burdette was just great out there for us. It was natural for him to let up in the 9th when he gave up 4 of his 7 hits. But by then we had about as many runs as we've had all season."

Steelers' Coach Calls Browns' Backs Bundle of Dynamite

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Mitchell, Brown and Bolden. Coach Buddy Parker of the Pittsburgh Steelers calls the Cleveland Browns' backfield trio a bundle of dynamite.

"Explosive all the way," Parker adds.

"They can break a game wide open with their running. If we can contain these three, we could pull off a victory Sunday."

The undefeated Browns and the once-beaten Steelers meet here

Sunday in the second week of play of the National Football League.

"Terrific runners," Parker calls

the three, adding:

"Mitchell, fast as lightning,

quick. 'Brown, big, but you can catch him."

Bolden, an open-type runner who is hard to get a hold of."

Bob Mitchell of Denver, Colo.,

is a 6-foot, 180-pound halfback who came to the Browns this year from the University of Illinois. He starred in the College All Stars upset victory over the Detroit Lions.

Jim Brown is in his second year with the Browns. The 6-2, 228-pound fullback was the Browns'

No. 1 draft choice after playing college ball at Syracuse. His home is in Hempstead, N. Y.

Leroy Bolden is a 5-9, 170-pound

rookie halfback from Michigan

State and makes his home in Flint, Mich.

Defense Phase of College Football to Get Stiff Tests

By The Associated Press

The defense phase of college football will get some stiff tests this weekend.

Oklahoma and Army, who unveiled new, wide open offenses that staggered opponents a week ago will be at it again Saturday.

Before all this comes about, though, Jim Tatum's winless (0-2) North Carolina Tar Heels meet Southern California tonight in Los Angeles. USC is 1-1 and a six-point favorite.

There will be all sorts of variations in the Cotton Bowl when Notre Dame (No. 7) meshes its running and passing attacks against Southern Methodist (No. 18) and quarterback Don Mere's great passing arm. The Irish have fullback Nick Pietrasante back for full-time service.

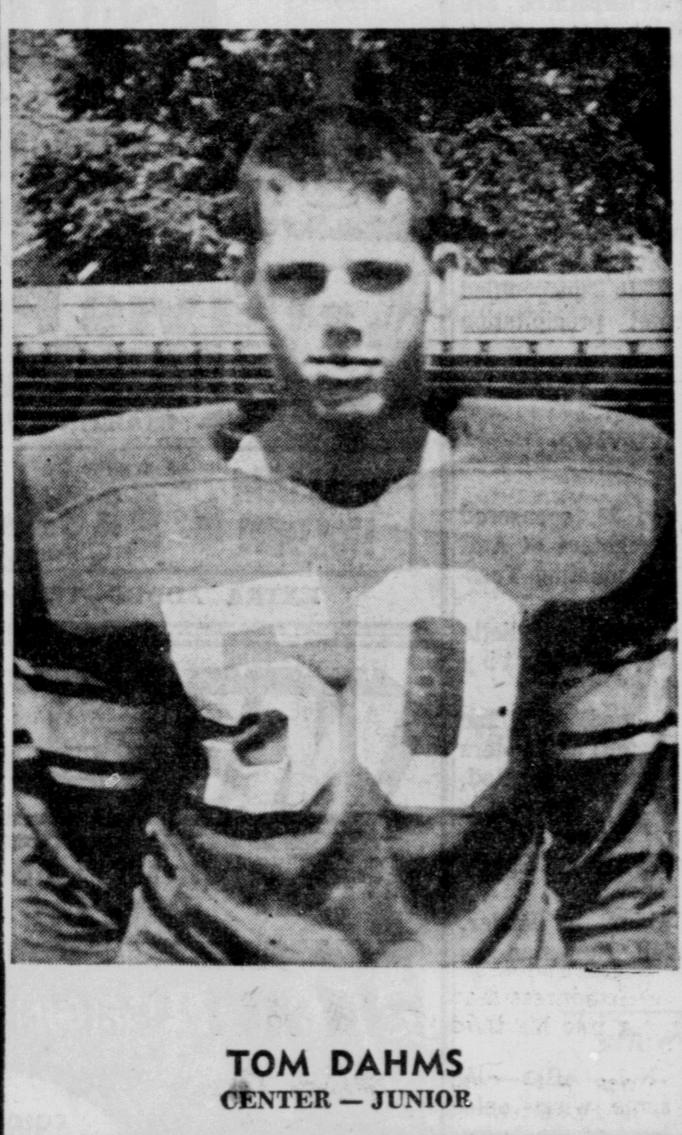

Fireworks aplenty are planned at Michigan State when the fourth-ranked Spartans use their multiple offense against neighbor and bitter rival Michigan in the Big Ten's top game.

Television viewers get a bit of variety too, when Washington State's ace passer Bob Newman goes against California's Joe Kapp.

The speaker was the Milwaukee Braves' Lew Burdette and he was referring, of course, to his continued World Series mastery over the New York Yankees.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel has just completed a national survey of labor's political action. Here is what was found.

In a thousand headquarters, including telephone equipped offices inside highway trailers and in thousands of factories making everything from blouses to bombers, organized labor is working dynamically towards one goal:

It seeks to get every one of its 3½ million members registered so they can vote in a bloc against the Republican party.

This is the greatest and most skillfully organized single political push in labor's history. It is directed by sophisticated union leaders who themselves do not believe they can "deliver" their membership, but they figure that the first step in their political offensive against the Eisenhower administration is to get their people registered. This they're doing by the hundreds of thousands.

In the final weeks of the campaign, another drive will be launched — this time to convince union members to vote for specific candidates.

THIS TACTIC doubled the number of registered union members in Maine just before the terrific Democratic sweep. How? A specialist in registration was dispatched to Maine by the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE). A union membership card file was set up, union-by-union, district-by-district, and shop-by-shop.

A spokesman for the Machinists Union reports that whenever a new worker was taken on by a shop, he was signed up by the union and then told immediately where to go to register so he could vote in the Muskie-Payne contest.

Everywhere this simultaneous registration in union membership and polling books continues across the land wherever Machinist lodges exist — and there are over 2,000 such locals.

The International Assn. of Ma-chistins, headed by A. J. Hayes, is as good a sampling as any. In New York State, for example, where the Rockefeller-Harriman race is closer than a singing star and his 10 per cent agent, the Machinists have cut the state into 15 districts. Each has been assigned to a vice president of the New York State Council of Machinists.

USING A MASTER card file system, the union's locals are being checked. They estimate that 35,000 members will be registered this year for the first time. Only in Jamestown, N. Y., did the machinists have no problem. They found that 100 per cent of the members of Lodge 1888 were already registered. These Machinists, appropriately enough, work for the Automatic Voting Machine Co.

Across the country, in Seattle, this union has "registration buses." It has an arrangement with the Boeing Co. to have 15 deputized registrars, distributed throughout the Boeing aircraft plants. The company supplies the registrars.

The union urges its members to sign right on the floor — and make themselves eligible to vote this fall. When this is over, the union will plump for re-election of U.S. Sen. Henry N. Jackson.

One of the most imaginative registration drives is pushed quietly and scientifically by the International Ladies Garment Workers in New York — a union dedicated to the Liberty party, whose nominees are Gov. Averell Harriman to succeed himself and District Attorney Frank Hogan for Senate.

Day after day, college students, handicapped workers and "retirees" earn part time money by sifting registration records. They do a job no electronic-brained business machine could accomplish. They break down the list of union members by district, residence and shops.

WITH THESE lists in hand, teams of union members visit non-registered union brethren in shops and homes scattered miles apart over the five boroughs.

Here there is a language hurdle.

Thousands of Spanish-speaking Puerto Ricans have not bothered to register. So the registration literature is bi-lingual and the visiting teams speak Spanish, too.

There are some 400,000 eligible Puerto Ricans but only 8 to 10 per cent have registered. Registration of another 50,000 such voters and a successful drive to convince them to vote for Gov. Harriman could be the balance of power in this dramatic fight to prove which one is the "people's millionaire."

Repeat this tale of two cities — Seattle and New York — in a thousand communities. Through them roll union loud-speakers, radio and television broadcasts, millions of pieces of registration literature and special political education courses, as in Fort Worth.

Here is the forerunner of the campaigns against Sen. Knowland in California and Gov. O'Neil in Ohio as well as Rockefeller down East.

There will be more eligible voters than ever — but the point is, whom will they support?

Cold Weather Scheduled For Next Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau forecast today below normal temperatures for most of the nation east of the Continental Divide during the next 30 days.

It said exceptions would be normal temperatures in New England and in south Atlantic Coastal states. Above normal temperatures on the West Coast were indicated.

The bureau's 30-day outlook:

"The Weather Bureau's 3-day outlook for October calls for temperatures to average below seasonal normals over most of the nation east of the Continental Divide except for near to slightly above normal in New England and along the south Atlantic Coast. Greatest departures are indicated over the Central Plains. Above normal temperatures are predicted for West Coast states and near normal in the intermountain area.

"Precipitation is expected to exceed normal over the eastern third of the nation and also in the west Gulf states. Subnormal amounts are predicted west of the Continental Divide and in the Northern Plains. In unspecified areas near normal precipitation is in prospect."

Local Issues Keep Most Ohio GM Workers Home from Jobs Despite Contract Agreement

By The Associated Press
Most of Ohio's 55,233 General Motors workers remained off the job today despite agreement in Detroit Thursday night on a new contract between GM and the United Auto Workers Union.

Local issues were keeping the ticket lines up at most of the state's 22 General Motors plants. The union struck GM across the nation, idling a quarter of a million workers, when a 10 a.m. Thursday strike deadline passed without a settlement. The negotiators, however, reached agreement on a new pact 12 hours later.

But in Ohio, the strike was still in effect. At the Ternstedt plant in Columbus which employs 4,000 workers, a union spokesman said the company and union had reached agreement on almost all major local issues "but there is still some odds and ends to clean up." An other bargaining session was scheduled for this morning.

Still Out In Cincinnati

Workers also remained off the job at three Cincinnati area plants. Edward D. Heikamp, union negotiator for the Cincinnati Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants, said: "The men won't go back until we get some relief on local problems." Adrian Jones, president of UAW Local 233 at the Hamilton Fisher Body plant took the same position.

Toledo UAW officials also expressed doubt if the new pact would see the approximately 1,250 workers at the GM transmission plant there back on the job until local grievances are settled.

At Dayton, UAW officials said
